Social Wellbeing

Professionals in senior care are fond of saying “Loneliness is worse for your health than smoking two packs a day.” And it’s true – it leaves us more prone to depression and cognitive decline, including dementia. As social beings, we need the help of others to navigate changes and transitions in our lives to provide comfort, understanding, advice, love, and friendship.

At Magnolia Springs, our mission is to create opportunities to improve social wellness, which include:

We offer bingo. It is fantastic place to socialize before and after games and is especially great for those residents who are a bit more introverted.

Bi-monthly, we throw a Know Thy Neighbor party for new residents which includes get-to-know-you games to create connections, build relationships, and foster a stronger community.

We also host happy hour, tastings, holiday celebrations, socials, outings. Engaging socially with other people is important to a person’s health, no matter their age. It is critical to people’s physical and psychological health to make genuine connections with those around them.
